

Looking for Russian Visas in Australia? If so check out below where to apply.

Before, you could have your visa processed at the Consular section of the Embassy of the Russian Federation in Australia in Canberra or at the Consulate General of the Russian Federation in Sydney.

However, since March 20, 2019, to meet the increasing demand of Russian Visas, the Embassy of the Russian Federation in Australia outsourced its Visa Application Processing to a private company (Interlink Service Ltd).

Thus, at present this company manage and process Russian visas through the Russian Visa Application Center in Sydney (opened on March 20, 2019) and Canberra (opened on April 8, 2019).

So, if you're applying for a visa to Russia from Australia, you shouldn't visit a consulate of the Russian Federation in Sydney, but you should visit the Russian Visa Center in the same city.

See website below.

Russian Visa Center Website: <https://interlinkservice.world/australia/>

If you are from Melbourne you can visit the below visa center.

CIBT Australia (Melbourne)

Address: Suite 15A /21 Sabre Dve, Port Melbourne, Victoria 3207, Australia

Telephone: +61 (1) 902 211 133 (toll call)

For your information, there are currently no special requirements for Australian citizens applying for Russian visas beyond those outlined in our general visa guide.