

Looking for Russian Visas in India? If so check out below where to apply.

Applying for a visa to travel to Russia from India, whether for work, business, study or tourism, is not as complicated a process as it may seem.

As an individual, you can have your visa processed at any consulate of the Russian Embassy in India (which can be found in New Delhi, Chennai, Mumbai, and Kolkata) as well as at the Russian Visa Center in India, an independent business that is subcontracted by the Russian Embassy in India which also has delegations in these same cities.

Russian consulates in India recommend applying for a visa at Russian Visa Centers, established to enhance the quality of service, as well as to facilitate visa procedure.

Companies and organizations, including travel agencies and any other entities applying for visas on behalf of customers or employees, regardless of the purpose of visit to Russia, must apply through the Visa Centers only.

Individual foreign citizens have the right to apply directly to the Consular Division of the Embassy of the Russian Federation or the nearest Consulate General of the Russian Federation to obtain a visa for themselves and the closest relatives by making a prior appointment.

The most important special condition for applications from Indian citizens is that you must present the original copy of your visa support documents (confirmation and voucher). Faxed or scanned copies are not accepted. This means that you will either need to obtain your visa support documents locally in India or have them faxed from Russia.
